The following response to a question received is issued for clarification:

1. Will the Town share any existing metrics they have for measuring the success or impact of their existing Net Zero initiatives?

Thank you for your question. Currently, we do not have any formal metrics in place for measuring the overall success or impact of our Net Zero initiatives. However, we do track greenhouse gas (GHG) reductions on a project-by-project basis to assess the impact of each specific effort. This approach allows us to gauge progress in reducing emissions and achieving our environmental goals.

Please refer to Section 3.2 Deliverables for further information on the objectives of the RFP.
